

Do you want to know what an Energy from Waste plant might look like in the Marston Vale?

Covanta are yet to publish publicly their designs but have shared these in private (not electronically) with the Community Liaison Panel that has been established to secure community engagement. One of the CLP members has helpfully provided an artists impression of what an EfW plant might look like in the Marston Vale - shown is a Photoshop version of the view from Ampthill Park - recognising there are at least two equally important perspectives to consider as part of any proposal, from Stewartby and from Marston Moreteyne/ The Forest Centre.

Marston Vale from Ampthill Park 2009

Marston Vale from Ampthill Park with conventional EfW plant?

The middle view superimposes an existing EfW plant, estimating its scale impact and making allowance for the possible pit depth. Remember Covanta say that three quarters of the giant building will be above the existing edge of Rookery Pit. The third view is an attempt to see what a 'green roof' might look like if this were feasible.

Marston Vale from Ampthill Park with 'green roof' EfW plant?